Adapt or fall: is civil society at risk of being left behind?

Venue: Session Room 7, International Conference Centre, Durban
Time: Wednesday 20 July 2016 – 18:30-20:30h.

Followed by a drinks reception to launch the Alliance Centres of Practice.

Times are tough for the HIV civil society response. Former dependable sources of funding are drying up, and yet the needs of those most vulnerable to HIV remain severe. As resources get tighter, a fierce competition for funds takes over.

Who will be the winners and losers? What new players will enter the market? What new strategies and tactics are required to meet these challenges? What will the civil society response to HIV look like in 2030?

Don't miss what promises to be a timely, thoughtful and self-aware discussion.
